Company's Culture

To begin with, we prefer using 'Associate' instead of 'Employee'. We work as a team, rather than one working 'for' the other.

( "Be extraordinary" and never lose sight of what is to be done.

• We are at our best together as a team, and there is always a strong connection between teammates (leisure time, gaming) nights, teambuilding, weekend movies, parties].

Hierarchy - we organise our teams according to the client groups or specified client needs.

We are a team holding hands to uplift our belief in "Design with Science"

What makes us different...

- Focused and quality team along with a global network of international artists.
- A Psychological approach and consumer behavioural economy rather than just an Art service project.
- Creatively literate to take a practical and effective risk.
- Design thinking approach with strength in Biomimicry & Human Psychology.

How it works

Ergonomically Designed, Made by Indians, for Indians

Ergonomics is essentially an applied science, which puts "YOU" in the center of all design - your comfort based on your body measurements and how you interact with every machine or work surface around you dictates design. With such an eye for detail, the result is an experience beyond anything.

ur Story

tory behind Optima Europe isn't a typical one. Most itment companies were formed during the recruitment n of the 1980s, and since then, these companies have tantly struggled to reinvent themselves as staffing agencies, gencies, job placement agencies, employment agencies, er development agencies ... we could go on all night. Then e the '90s .com boom, and before you knew it, every other site was a recruitment website.

vith Optima Europe, we know what we are and we keep it le. We're international recruitment agency located in London vith a twist Krzysztof Harazinski, Optima founder, had worked for many years as EMEA in-house recruitment manager for a number of software vendors such as Adobe-Omniture, Salesforce-ExactTarget, Oracle-Maxymiser. Prior to this, he was part of an international recruitment agency supporting clients such as Nike, GE, Western Union, Philips, Experian etc. This way Krzysztof saw the recruitment game from both sides of the spectrum. He understood the needs of the applicants who were eagerly looking to be placed in the jobs of their dreams, and he also noticed the heavy burden - both in terms of financial and time - that was being placed on the companies looking for new talent.

We are different!

As a former in-house talent acquisition manager, Krzysztof (The Founder) witnessed his fair share of online recruitment agencies that failed to live up to client expectations. In his day-to-day work he often observed recruiters that were only interested in hitting sales targets with little regard for the quality of work delivered.

And it is this mantra that forms the very antithesis of everything Optima Europe stands for. We know what challenges lie in quality online recruitment and how time-consuming the internal processes for finding and hiring top talent can be. Endless CVs to review, laborious screening processes, and not enough hours in most of the time there is no need for clients to endure arduous face-to-face meetings to map out all the requirements and expectations. We have the skills and experience to find the right talent for the client, which meets the need, while also providing high quality candidates ... in impressive volumes. This is a particularly rare paradigm in today's hyper competitive recruitment market.

Optima is an EMEA wide recruitment evangelist that delivers a very high quality service. Our client network is growing organically every day - the team's networking and clientrecommendations
